

About the Artist

Kitty enthusiast, Leslie A. Tester, is the creator of KittyLitter™ cards. After experiencing the loss of her beloved uncle, Tim, to cancer, Leslie recognized a need for a special kind of greeting card. For those coping with illness, KittyLitter offers support, encouragement and a smile - written from a candid point of view.

Through her experience, Leslie hopes to give those suffering and their loved ones a way to feel connected during uncertain times.

Leslie writes and illustrates all KittyLitter cards, in love and remembrance of Tim, who fought cancer with grace, dignity and laughter.

Leslie graduated with a Masters of Arts degree, specializing in Art Therapy, from the University of Louisville. She is a Charleston, South Carolina native, painter and cartoonist. Leslie resides in Charleston with her husband, Kipp and the kitties. For further information about KittyLitter cards, please email: leslie@kittylittercards.com.
